

12th Batch
02/08/2022

Department of Nursing, Faculty of Allied Health Sciences, University of Ruhuna

3rd End Semester Examination 2022

12th Batch

Communication skills in Nursing (NUR 2150) OSCE

Topics for student health education session

1. Health education for a patient with a diabetic foot ulcer
2. Health education for a patient with hypertension
3. Health education for a patient undergoing hemodialysis treatment
4. Health education for a patient undergoing coronary artery bypass graft (CABG) surgery
5. Health education for a patient with a tracheostomy
6. Health education session for a patient with carcinoma following palliative treatment
7. Health education session on breastfeeding for antenatal mothers
8. Health education session for a patient undergoing thyroidectomy
9. Health education session on family planning for eligible couples
10. Health education session on the importance of nutrition during pregnancy

Each health education session should be conducted covering the following areas

1. Brief Introduction to the disease condition/ current condition
2. Risk factors for the disease and importance of the treatment/ surgery/nutrition/breastfeeding
3. Health education for prevention and restore health of the patients
4. Available facilities/ opportunities to reach relevant services

Duration of the session- 5 minutes

Any visual aids, leaflets, or other teaching materials can be used for the health education session

At the end of the health education session following things will be evaluated.

1. Adequacy of the information
2. Clarity of the presentation
3. Communication skills of the students
4. Overall organization of the health education session
5. Evaluation of the health education session
6. Time management